Professor Vito Zagarrio teaches film history and film analysis at the University of Rome III, Italy. Vito Zagarrio studied at the Experimental Film Center in Rome, where Roberto Rossellini was his teacher. Since 1978, he has worked at the RAI directing documentaries. His filmography includes: Tre giorni d’anarchia (2004); Bonus malus (1993); La donna della luna (1987); Among his authored and edited volumes: La meglio gioventù; Overlooking Kubrick. La storia, la messa in scena, lo sguardo, il montaggio, la psiche; John Waters; Francis Ford Coppola; Frank Capra: Authorship and the Studio System (edited with Robert Sklar)